XPO

PRIVACY POLICY

Privacy Policy

We at XENO PORTFOLIO esteem the relationship we have with our clients and site guests, and are focused on capable data taking care of practices. We treat the security of our clients extremely in a serious way and believe that you should feel great at whatever point you visit our sites, and utilize our internet-based administrations.

Despite the fact that our sites have exceptional administrations and contributions, they share a comparative security reasoning. Accordingly, we drafted this corporate internet-based protection strategy to address XENO PORTFOLIO's overall security way to deal with the data practices of our sites XENO PORTFOLIO perceives your right to classification and is focused on safeguarding your security. This protection explanation unveils what data we assemble, how we use it, and how to address or change it. You can hope to be informed of:

- What actually recognizable data of yours is gathered?
- What association is gathering the data.
- How the data is utilized.
- With whom the data might be shared.
- What decisions you have in regards to the assortment, use and dispersion of the data.
- What sorts of safety methods are set up to safeguard the misfortune, abuse or modification of data under the organization's influence?
- How you can address any errors in the data.
- You should guide questions with respect to this assertion to any of our recorded techniques for contact.

Your Personal Information

We don't gather individual data when you visit our site except if you information exchange for a help, put in a request, register, complete a review or participate in a challenge. At the point when you information exchange for a help, we will ask you for the accompanying individual data: name and email address. We might utilize your own data to reach you for account purposes.

At the point when you submit a request (move up to a paid variant of programming), we will ask you for the accompanying individual data: name, email address, postage information, telephone number, and KYC docs and its termination date. This data is mentioned to confirm your personality. This data is sent by means of a protected scrambled server utilizing Transport Layer Security (TLS) encryption, all the more ordinarily known as HTTPS, the endorsed business standard (see Security segment beneath). We might utilize your own data to reach you for account purposes.

At the point when you submit criticism or questions by means of email, or reach us for data about our Web website, we will demand your name and email address. We utilize this data exclusively to answer your requests. We share general segment data with publicists and accomplices as amassed data that can't be utilized in any capacity to recognize you.

All exhibition measurements and information are kept hidden and not delivered to any of our accomplices without your consent. Infrequently, we might reference our own insights, yet the information will be a total of our entire client base, and not recognize any one party.

XENO PORTFOLIO guarantees that all private data connecting with its individuals and clients, including email locations and individual data, will be kept classified. We don't share, sell, lease or deal any recognizable individual data to any outsider without your consent.

Organization Information

You concur that XENO PORTFOLIO might recognize your organization name as well as logo as a XENO PORTFOLIO client on client records, advertising materials or potentially official statements. Assuming you wish to be avoided from this program, do as such by messaging: "promoting AT XPO.RU ".

Security

XENO PORTFOLIO utilizes Transport Layer Security (TLS) encryption, all the more regularly known as HTTPS, for each of the information that we send and get. This guarantees that all client information on the way is both no problem at all, and also simply accessible to the expected beneficiaries. This guarantees that web-based exchanges and the transmission of individual data, for example, Visa subtleties are protected from outsider interference.

Treats

To all the more likely serve you, we use "treats" to decrease the time expected to login. A treat is a limited quantity of data sent from a Web server to your PC. We use treats to recover specific data you recently gave to XENO PORTFOLIO, with the goal that you don't have to remerge this data each time you login into the individual's region. Additionally, we use treats to forestall numerous decisions on our Web Poll and Survey administrations. Treats are not used to get to data entered on the protected server; this data must be gotten to when you enter your name and secret phrase. No other organization approaches our treats. We don't utilize the treat to follow your Internet action once you leave XENO PORTFOLIO.

We gather and cycle an assortment of non-expressly distinguishing data to forestall extortion and support and keep a greater perusing experience for all clients. We don't follow individual clients.

XENO PORTFOLIO Frequency Capping Cookie

Information Collected
A non-individual ID that connects to the zone or potentially promotion (not the person)
A timestamp

Reason for Cookie
Guarantee that a client doesn't see the promotion over and over

Term of information put away
The term for this treat is set by the head inside the XENO PORTFOLIO interface each time it is utilized

Degree of Data Processing
The information this treat gathers isn't imparted to any outsiders and is utilized solely by XENO PORTFOLIO for the explanation referenced previously. This data can't be utilized to distinguish an individual particularly.

XENO PORTFOLIO Conversion Tracking Cookie

Information Collected
A non-individual ID that connects to the zone as well as ad (not the person)

Reason for Cookie
Permit attribution of a promotion to an ideal objective. This doesn't follow an individual, just the source promotion

Term of Data Stored
This treat lapses in 180 days or less

Degree of Data Processing
The information this treat gathers isn't imparted to any outsiders and is utilized solely by XENO PORTFOLIO for the reason referenced previously. This data can't be utilized to distinguish an individual extraordinarily.

These promoting treats are planned to further develop the perusing experience by diminishing the quantity of rehashing advertisements you see. The promoting treats likewise permit a promoter to credit the survey of an advertisement to an activity on the objective site. This is attribution isn't attached to an individual, and there is no following of an individual included.

To clear your treats
Open your program settings or inclinations (contingent upon your program)

Look for Cookies
- Select Clear perusing information
- Select Cookies and other site information or Clear Data (contingent upon your program)
- Affirm the getting free from the treat information
- A little piece of the promotions served on versatile applications through XENO PORTFOLIO integrate personalization by select accomplices. This personalization is intended to give advertisements more applicable to your inclinations. On the off chance that you don't really want to have customized promotions in portable application commercials, you can reset your promoter ID on your cell phone, but this might bring about ads less fit to your inclinations.

To reset your promoting ID on an Android gadget
- Open your gadget settings
- Select/tap Google settings
- Select/tap Ads
- Select/tap Reset publicizing ID
- Affirm that you need to reset your publicizing ID

To reset your promoting ID on an iOS gadget
- Open your gadget settings
- Select/tap Privacy
- Select/tap Advertising
- Select/tap Reset promoting identifier
- Affirm that you need to reset your promoting ID
- Your Choice/Opt-Out

XENO PORTFOLIO furnishes you with the chance to eliminate your own data from our data set and quit getting correspondences from us whenever. Login to the individual's area and erase any items that you have endorsed for (See FAQ for more data).

XENO PORTFOLIO gives you the chance to refresh or change any data you recently gave. Please login to the individual's region and roll out your improvements (See FAQ for more data).

Bot/Data Collection
XENO PORTFOLIO and its subsidiaries won't ever append any spybot or information assortment programming to any of its items.

Your Comments/How to Reach Us
Assuming that you have questions or remarks about XENO PORTFOLIO's security strategy, if it's not too much trouble, go ahead and reach us.

XPO

Ксено Портфолио ООО

Дмитровское ш., 100, с2Moskva,
Russia, 127247

hello@xpo.ru
www.xpo.ru
+7 991 855-90-00